Directions for Accessing and Completing Student E-learning

The purpose of this document is to provide directions for accessing and registering for the Clinical Informatics Education website for Students. From this site, students will view the MEDITECH e-learning modules to meet training requirements.

Please note, our information systems are continually reviewed and changed to ensure patient safety and improve efficiency of patient care. Therefore, the screens you will see in the e-learning modules may be slightly different than what you will actually see in the clinical setting. However, the overall functionality will be the same.

Follow the steps below to register and log into St. Joseph Health Clinical Informatics Education website.

1. Click on the following link or copy and paste the link into your web browser.
